

The Harvard University Center for Jewish Studies invites applications for the 2021-2022 Daniel Jeremy Silver Fellowship

Applicants must be active congregational rabbis who have demonstrated serious intellectual and academic ability, interest and energy in the pursuit of Jewish scholarship.

The Fellowship, which provides a $40,000 fellowship stipend for one semester in residence at Harvard, allows the recipient to begin, continue or complete research in an area of Jewish scholarship. The Fellow will enjoy full access to the resources of the University—its libraries, professors, staff, and courses.
